PROJECT

- An Automated System For Detection Of Driver Use Of Mobile Phone Based On Haar Cascade Classifier Algorithm DESCRIPTION:
Mobiles phone are highly distracting in terms of concentration in terms of concentration and attention. It is very important to ensure complete hundred percent attention on the road. In this project we propose a computer vision based method for determining driver cell phone using real time camera system. This develop method utilizes a HAAR cascade and Adaboost algorithm to detect the cell phone usage. In hardware part, after receiving the signal, the controller will control the speed of the vehicle in a step by step. and it will finally stops the vehicle along with the indicator. And also the system will generate alarm signal whenever the use of mobile phone driver is detected.
